

“Bacchus would be proud”

- Britton B

“If you want to be transported to a cozy, refined wine bar tucked away in the convoluted streets of Paris - this is it. The only thing missing is the ghost of Edith Piaf.”

- Catherine L.

“Vin Sur Vingt is a boon for Manhattan's wine bar scene. I wish them all the best.”

- P. Arena

The New York Times

---

Off the Menu

By FLORENCE FABRICANT

Published: July 12, 2011

VIN SUR VINGT Though there is no connection between this wine bar and a wine shop in Paris with almost the same name (Vins sur Vingt), Sébastien Auvet has made his little 31-seat spot as French as possible with traditional bistro décor, French wines (20 white and 20 red by the glass, plus 10 sparklers, dessert wines and rosés) and quiches, croques-monsieur, cheeses, charcuterie, foie gras, escargots and tartes: 201 West 11th Street (Seventh Avenue South), (212) 924-4442.